

Come On

Wake up, get dressed, and go out
Forget your problems
You'll overcome them
You're still young, your life's not over
Whatever you dream is always within reach

You can live your life like you want
If your mind is open
So, come on
Everything you want is waiting for you to take it
So come on

Lift up your head and be you
Your life has value; there's only one you
If you don't like what you have chosen
Do something different
If it makes you happy

You can live your life like you want
If your mind is open
So, come on
Everything you want is waiting for you to take it
So come on

It seems so easy!
