

The Patch Of Sun

Sitting in the chair in the patch of sun
Stare straight into the screen
So no-one bothers me
Sitting in the chair 'til the sunshine moves away

We were strong
We were young
We'd drink the rain and dream all day
And, when we'd wake, we'd start again
Just me and you

I speak your name when I'm asleep
I see your face inside my dreams

© P. Fisher