

The World Belongs To You

Living in elastic times
Madmen hungry for a fight
Rampant egos running wild

This world belongs to you
If we share it, we'll survive
And war is nothing new
When it ends, who'll be alive?

Planting seeds in poisoned minds
Bad religion/blinkered eyes
First it crawls, and then it flies

This world belongs to you
If we share it, we'll survive
And war is nothing new
When it ends, who'll be alive?
