

To Be With You

Hold me, I've something to say now
I close my eyes and gulp the air down
It hurts me; there's nothing to do now
There comes a time to feel the pain

And I'm crying for you

Old dreams are starting to fade now
It's all that I can do to sleep at night
And, if we should ever meet
Well...I tell myself I couldn't face you

And I'm crying for you

Is something wrong with you?
